Discretionary Portfolio Management Service

We will manage your investment portfolio on your behalf, which includes making and implementing investment decisions, and monitoring performance and risk. We make the day-to-day investment decisions for you with expertise and care to achieve the goals you set for us.

Our attention is focused on your objectives, taking account of your overall circumstances, appetite, and capacity for risk, so we can respond to changing events and market shifts as they occur, leaving you to concentrate on your other priorities.

We will handle all the administration related to the portfolio and provide you with comprehensive records on a regular basis. You have nothing to do apart from agreeing your investment objectives with us from time to time and keeping us informed of any material changes to your circumstances.

Under bespoke discretionary investment management, a portfolio is created just for you to match your circumstances, personal investment strategy (including any investment restrictions), attitude to risk, capacity for loss and financial objectives.

Execution Only Service

We will execute your orders on your behalf based on your Instructions but we will not provide advice, manage or carry out any reviews of your investments. Factual information, such as share prices and market activity, may be given on request. This can be offered to you directly by your Account Executive.

Under the FCA Rules, if you wish to deal in ‘complex financial instruments’, we are required to carry out an appropriateness test to assess your knowledge and experience of the risks of such Financial Instruments, before facilitating your Instruction. We will carry out our assessment either at Account opening or, if the assessment has not been previously undertaken, at the point of your Instruction.

When assessing your knowledge and experience we will consider the knowledge and experience disclosed to us during our relationship with you. Where we are required to consider appropriateness, and based on the information, or insufficient information, you have supplied to us, we may consider that an investment or transaction may not be appropriate for you, and we will not be able to act on your Instruction, even on an “execution-only” basis.

Advisory Managed Service

We will manage your investment portfolio on your behalf, based upon our understanding of your investment objectives, taking account of your overall circumstances, appetite, and capacity for risk.

You are consulted prior to any changes being made to your portfolio and your approval is final. You retain control but we will monitor your investments.

Advisory Non-Managed Service

We will provide you with recommendations on individual investments as and when you wish to receive that advice, but we will not actively monitor your investment portfolio.

We will consider only the Suitability of the investment in the light of your objectives and requirements at the time of giving the advice, for which we rely on information that you provide to us.

We are available to provide you with the benefit of your investment manager's experience, expertise, and knowledge, but we do not consider the Suitability of your portfolio over time, nor manage your overall risk exposure, the responsibility for which remains with you. We will not be responsible on a continuing basis for advising on the composition or Suitability of your portfolio.

Due to the nature of the Service, which is at your discretion, we are unable to systematically track the performance of recommendations over time. You can initiate the request for advice by contacting us, however we may also contact you to make recommendations if we believe you may reasonably wish to receive that advice.

4.3 Our investment process

DISC / ADV

Dowgate was formed with the belief that sustainable compound returns are best generated from bespoke investment portfolios. We also believe that no customer is the same and we must deliver high levels of personalised and on time service. This is contrary to the overly centralised asset allocation approach which has enamoured the asset management industry over recent years. In a world which continues to change, our philosophy allows us to remain flexible to continuously meet our customers' needs.

We select investments in Financial Instruments based on their fundamental qualities and their ability to generate above-market returns regardless of economic cycles. Our core expertise is applying rigorous analysis to a selection of individual companies who are defining and benefiting from various structural changes across many industries; whether they be large or small. Putting our customers' objectives at the forefront, we apply our expertise through the thoughtful construction of bespoke portfolios incorporating various asset classes and geographies depending on our outlook.

This approach would not have merit should there not be high levels of customer service and support. It is paramount that our customers have personal access to all members of the team and any request is met accurately and on time. We also feel that the best ideas often come through conversation; whether it be about our investment approach or service offerings.

4.4 Investment risks

ALL

You need to be aware that there are risks involved with investing your money in Financial Instruments and that you invest knowing that you may not get back some or all your money.

Market risk is the possibility that you may experience losses due to factors that affect the overall performance of investments in financial markets.

Equity risk is the risk that the value of an equity-based Financial Instrument (such as shares) reduces, potentially leading to losses. Equity risk arises due to events affecting markets and market sectors more broadly such as changes in legislation, taxation, global events, macroeconomics, etc.

Interest rate risk is the risk of a decline in the value of a Financial Instrument due to changes in interest rates, the implications of changes to interest rates, and/or volatility associated with interest rate changes. Interest rate risk is primarily associated with fixed income Financial Instruments such as Bonds.

Currency risk is also known as exchange rate risk or foreign exchange (FX) risk. It is the risk that a Financial Instrument's value will be negatively affected by changes in currency values. Currency fluctuations can have a significant impact on your returns, both positively and negatively, and potentially more so if invested in currencies other than the currency of your country of residence.

Credit Risk is the risk of incurring a financial loss on a debt-based Financial Instrument (such as Bonds) resulting from the borrower's failure to repay a loan. Credit risk refers to the risk that a lender may not receive the money it is owed, which results in an interruption of cash flows and increased costs for collection.

Liquidity Risk refers to the potential difficulty a customer may face in meeting their short-term financial obligations due to an inability to convert assets into cash quickly enough without incurring a potentially substantial loss.

4.5 Financial Instrument specific risks

ALL

All Financial Instruments are subject to general market risk as per 4.4 but for each type of Financial Instrument there are also specific risks.

Bonds and Gilts

These debt-based Financial Instruments are subject to credit risk in that their value is linked to their issuer's credit rating. Entities with lower credit ratings have greater potential for defaulting on payments.

You may be subject to re-investment risk when investing proceeds at lower rates (meaning that you may get a lower rate of return when reinvesting proceeds of sale in another Financial Instrument because, for example, Bank of England Base Rate has changed).

Some bonds are classified as complex investments and investment in these Financial Instruments should only be undertaken by customers who are experienced and knowledgeable about their make-up.

Shares

Shares give you ownership rights in companies. Investment return from individual companies is linked to their performance and whether their business model and strategy were correct.

You may be subject to concentration risk should you not invest in a diversified portfolio. This means that you put too much money in one company or invest too heavily in one sector, putting you at risk that the company or sector does not perform well.

Dividend payments on shares are subject to the discretion and performance of firms.

Collectives (Mutual funds)

You are reliant on the skill, knowledge, and experience of the fund manager to ensure the performance of your investment. Some collectives, whilst diversified, invest in specific sectors or countries which may expose you to concentration risk, as a result of the greater volatility and investment losses given specific market conditions.

Some collectives have a small amount of assets under management which may give rise to liquidity risk in specific scenarios.

You may be subject to tracking error should you invest in collectives which track indices. This means that the actual performance of the investments does not meet the historic performance data which provided the benchmarked returns.

Exchange Traded Products (ETPs)

You may be subject to greater volatility and investment losses given specific market conditions should you invest in ETPs which are not diversified i.e. ETPs linked to the price of a single commodity.

Some ETPs provide the potential for greater returns by leveraging or going short, however, ETPs with these features have the potential for greater losses.

Some ETPs are classified as complex investments and investment in these Financial Instruments should only be undertaken by customers who are experienced and knowledgeable about their make up.

4.6 Service specific risks

Discretionary Service risk

You are reliant on the skill, knowledge, and experience of Dowgate to make investment decisions on your behalf.

Advisory Service risk

You are reliant on the skill, knowledge, and experience of Dowgate to make investment recommendations but deciding whether to take up recommendations are ultimately up to you. For unmanaged advisory Services there is a risk that you may not seek advice on investments when required.

Execution-Only Service risk

You are reliant on your own skill, knowledge, and experience when investing your own money and managing your own investments. We will not advise you on execution-only transactions.

4.7 Our fees and charges

ALL

Clients using discretionary services will not be informed if invested assets are sold to cover fees and charges. Clients using Advisory services will be informed that assets will be sold should there not be enough money on account to cover fees and charges and given the choice on whether or not they would like to make a payment from their bank account to cover charges.

ALL

- 4.8.1 The FCA requires all regulated firms to categorise their customers as either 'retail', 'professional' or 'eligible counterparties' for the purposes of ensuring adequate protection is provided to customers who have less investment knowledge and experience. These protection measures come in the form of requirements to ensure firms always act in the best interests of customers and provide them with clear information so that they make informed decisions.
- 4.8.2 Upon your confirmation to take up Services we will categorise you as either a 'retail client' or a 'professional' client. We will automatically categorise new customers as retail clients as this provides you with maximum protection under the regulatory system.

Professional clients are not provided the same level of protection under the regulatory system as retail clients. Customers wishing to become professionals will be required meet a set regulatory criterion and also consent to accept loss of protections.
- 4.8.4 At any point you may contact your dedicated Wealth Manager to request recategorising as a retail client to regain protections provided under the regulatory system.

Schedule 1: Terms of Business for Customers (Custody Terms)

1 Introduction

- 1.1 These Terms of Business for Customers (Custody Terms) are issued by Global Prime Partners Limited (Titan). Titan's registered office is at 101 Wigmore Street, London, W1U 1QU. Titan is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) whose address is 12 Endeavour Square, London E20 1JN. Titan's FCA firm reference number is 533039.
- 1.2 As part of the service that we, Dowgate Capital Limited, provide to you, we arrange for order execution, settlement and safe custody services to be provided by Titan. So that Titan can provide these services for you and our other clients we have entered into an agreement with Titan (the Titan Agreement), which sets out the terms and conditions relating to those services.
- 1.3 One of the conditions of the Titan Agreement is that we provide our clients with these Custody Terms which will form an agreement between you, us and Titan. They are important as they set out the obligations Titan owes to you when providing their services. This condition is a regulatory requirement under COBS 6.1ZA of the FCA Handbook.
- 1.4 If there is anything in these Custody Terms that you do not understand or if you have any questions about their contents let us know as soon as possible and ideally before accepting these Custody Terms.
- 1.5 We have defined terms throughout in bold where they appear for the first time, and indicated with a capital letter that the word has a specific meaning. Defined terms are also included in the Glossary of Definitions in Clause 19 of these Custody Terms.

2 Your Relationship with Titan

- 2.1 When you become our client you also accept and are bound by these Custody Terms. These Custody Terms form part of our terms of business with you. It is important for you to understand that this means you will be both our client and a client of Titan for the services set out in these Custody Terms.
- 2.2 By agreeing to these Custody Terms you agree that:
- 2.2.1 you appoint us as your agent in relation to the services to be provided under the Titan Agreement;
 - 2.2.2 these Custody Terms create a contract between you and us, and also between you and Titan and that you are bound by these Custody Terms;
 - 2.2.3 you authorise us to give instructions to Titan on your behalf; and
 - 2.2.4 we can provide information about you to Titan and Titan will be entitled to rely on our instructions or information about you without making any further checks or enquiries.
- 2.3 If we terminate the Titan Agreement these Custody Terms will also terminate. We will inform you if the Titan Agreement is terminated and the alternative arrangements that we will enter into on your behalf.

3 The services that Titan will provide

- 3.1 Titan will provide you with the following services:
- 3.1.1 hold cash and investments on your behalf; and
 - 3.1.2 transfer cash or investments from your Account at Titan to settle transactions in investments carried out on your behalf.
- These Custody Terms set out the basis on which the above services will be provided.
- 3.2 Titan will not:
- 3.2.1 provide you with investment advice;
 - 3.2.2 give any opinion about the suitability or appropriateness of any transaction or order to deal in investments. We will remain responsible to you for making assessments about the suitability or appropriateness of transactions that are entered into for your account; or 3.2.3 have responsibility for any of the matters listed in paragraph 3.3 below.

3.3 We are responsible for the following matters:

3.3.1 executing orders for transactions in investments that we have either received from you or that are made as a result of investment decisions we have taken on your behalf under the agreement we have with you (Orders);

3.3.2 passing on Orders to be carried out by Titan on your behalf; or 3.3.3 carrying out checks to ensure we comply with FCA Rules relating to anti-money laundering and combatting financial crime.

3.4 We are responsible for the operation of the accounts that we open on your behalf with Titan therefore if you have any questions about your account you must ask us and not Titan.

3.5 Titan is responsible for managing any third-party agent bank accounts (with an appointed sub-custodian) for and on your behalf.

4 Client Categorisation

4.1 Under the FCA Rules clients are classified as retail clients, professional clients or eligible counterparties. We have carried out that classification and notified you of it as part of our terms of business. As Titan relies on the information we send to it, Titan will use the same client classification for you that we do.

5 Communication and Instructions

5.1 Titan is entitled to rely on and act in accordance with any valid instruction (Instruction) it receives from us. A valid Instruction means any Instruction that Titan believes in good faith has come from us or has been passed on by us from you. An Instruction cannot be cancelled once it has been received by Titan from us. Instructions include Orders.

5.2 Titan can check if an Instruction is valid, but is not required to do so. Titan may do so for example if an Instruction appears to be incomplete or inaccurate. If Titan has asked for directions in relation to an Instruction and we have failed to provide those directions within a reasonable time, Titan reserves the right to take such action as it considers reasonably necessary, which may include:

5.2.1 checking the validity of the Instruction directly with you; and

5.2.2 refusing to accept the Instruction.

5.3 Titan may, in its absolute discretion, refuse to accept an Instruction, including an Order. Titan will tell us of its decision and may tell us of the reason for refusing to carry out the Instruction unless prevented from doing so by applicable law including Financial Crime Laws, court order or if directed by the FCA.

5.4 Titan will not be responsible for any delays or inaccuracies in the transmission of any Instructions or other information that is due to a cause beyond Titan's reasonable control or if we have failed to provide directions to Titan when requested to do so.

5.5 Titan is required under the FCA Rules to provide you with certain information, for example statements of your Custody Assets and Client Money, in a "durable medium" which may be other than on paper. By accepting these Custody Terms you consent to Titan providing this information to you and us electronically, which may include via a client portal accessible through a secure login or email that is personally addressed to you.

5.6 Any communications (whether written, oral, electronic or otherwise) between you, us and Titan will be in English.

6 Operating your Account(s) at Titan

6.1 You will ensure that there is sufficient money available in your Titan Client Money account to meet any Orders prior to us sending an Instruction to Titan.

6.2 Any fees or charges payable by you in connection with your Orders that are owed to Titan or the Execution Venues will be deducted from your Titan Client Money account.

6.3 We will give Instructions to Titan to collect its fees in connection with providing the services under these Custody Terms from your Account.

7 Custody

7.1 For the following terms:

7.1.1 FCA Custody Rules means the rules made by the FCA that Titan must comply with when holding your Custody Assets; and 7.1.2 Custody Assets means your investments held in safe custody by Titan under these Custody Terms and the Titan Agreement.

7.2 Titan will comply with the FCA Custody Rules when holding your Custody Assets.

7.3 Titan may appoint agents, nominees and sub-custodians to hold Custody Assets on such terms as Titan considers appropriate and in accordance with FCA Custody Rules.

7.4 When Titan appoints an agent or sub-custodian to hold Custody Assets it is only permitted to do so under the FCA Custody Rules if it has first carried out sufficient due diligence and a risk assessment concerning the suitability of the custodian to hold Custody Assets. Titan must monitor the continuing suitability of any agent, or sub-custodian for holding Custody Assets. Titan will take your best interests into account when deciding where Custody Assets will be held.

7.5 Titan may register or permit the registration of Custody Assets held for your account in the name of its nominee Titan Settlement & Custody Nominees Limited (the Nominee) or in the name of Titan's appointed sub-custodian or their nominee or as otherwise permitted under the FCA Rules.

7.6 Your Custody Assets held by Titan's appointed sub-custodian may be pooled with the assets of other clients of ours and of Titan. Titan will maintain records of your Custody Assets so that your entitlement to Custody Assets in the pool can be readily identified. However, if there is a shortfall of assets being held in the pooled Custody Account that cannot be reconciled, you may not receive your full entitlement and would have to share proportionately in any shortfall of the assets in the pool along with other clients.

7.7 Your Custody Assets may be registered or deposited with a third party in a jurisdiction outside the UK. For example, this could be due to the type of investment being held or the Custody Asset being required to be registered or deposited overseas where different laws apply. Some overseas jurisdictions may not offer the same level of protection for the Custody Assets as would be available if held in the UK. Titan will only permit your Custody Assets to be registered or deposited in jurisdictions where the law, regulatory obligations or market practice requires that they be held there. If you have been classified as a Professional Client you may also request us to ask Titan to register or deposit your Custody Assets in an overseas jurisdiction but Titan may, at its own discretion, decline such a request.

7.8 If there is an insolvency or default of a third-party custodian including an overseas custodian, Titan may only have an unsecured claim against that custodian on your behalf. In such circumstances you could be exposed to the risk that there will be a shortfall in or no assets received by Titan from the custodian to cover any loss of your Custody Assets.

7.9 Through us, Titan will provide you with a statement of your Custody Assets as required by the FCA Custody Rules.

7.10 Under the FCA Rules, Titan is entitled to stop treating assets as Custody Assets held on your behalf if we have not provided them with Instructions in relation to them for a period of twelve (12) years or such other period prescribed by the Applicable Law and Titan has been unable to contact us, having taken reasonable steps in accordance with Applicable Law to trace us and return the Custody Assets, Titan may, in its sole discretion, (i) liquidate any unclaimed Custody Assets at market value and pay away the proceeds; or (ii) pay away any such unclaimed Custody Assets, in either case to a registered charity of Titan's choice, in accordance with the FCA rules, outlined by CASS 6, in which case Titan shall not be obliged to treat such assets as Custody Assets.

- 7.11 Titan will undertake daily reconciliation in accordance with FCA Rules. Titan will prepare statements of Custody Assets as required by the FCA Rules which we will forward to you on receipt.

8 Dividends, Interest and Commissions

- 8.1 Titan will be responsible for:
- 8.1.1 receiving and claiming dividends and interest payments to be credited to your Titan Client Money or Titan custody account; and
 - 8.1.2 crediting to your Titan Client Money account or Titan custody account any commission payable to you, that are received in relation to your Custody Assets.

- 8.2 All dividends, interest and commission due to you will be paid net of any withholding tax and other deductions required to be made by Titan and/or the payee in accordance with applicable legal or regulatory requirements. Titan will provide details of all deductions made.
- 8.3 If Titan incurs any costs for administering the payments of dividends, interest or commissions we will be responsible for paying those, if we fail to make payment, Titan may at its discretion, be entitled to debit the costs or reimbursement from the relevant Client Money account.
- 8.4 Titan, the Nominee or any third-party custodian will not be responsible for reclaiming any withholding tax and other deductions.

9 Corporate Actions

- 9.1 Titan is not required to inform either us or you of any actions or events concerning Custody Assets including take-over offers, capital reorganisations, company meetings, conversion rights, or subscription rights (Corporate Actions) but will do so far as reasonably practicable.
- 9.2 Titan will only take action in response to Corporate Actions if instructed by us provided that we give them instructions within the timetable stated by Titan. We will give any instructions to Titan in line with our terms of business with you.

- 9.3 Where Titan receives entitlements arising out of Corporate Actions relating to investments held in pooled accounts these will be allocated proportionately as far as is reasonably possible. However, there may be times when this is not possible and Titan may adjust the allocation of entitlements so as to make the allocation fair for all participants in the pool. Where fractional entitlements to investments arise and are received by Titan they may sell the fractions in the market and pay the proceeds to the clients in the pool in proportion to their entitlement.

10 Client Money

- 10.1 For the following Terms:
- 10.1.1 Client Money means any money belonging to you, in any currency that is held by Titan for your account at an Approved Bank appointed by Titan in accordance with the FCA Client Money Rules.
 - 10.1.2 FCA Client Money Rules means the rules made by the FCA that Titan must comply with when it holds your Client Money.
 - 10.1.3 Approved Bank means a bank, a building society or another institution that is regulated in the UK or under the national regulations of an overseas jurisdiction for holding money on deposit.

- 10.2 Your Client Money will be held by Titan in accordance with the FCA Client Money Rules at one or more Approved Banks in an account in its name and which is designated as a client money account. Your Client Money will be pooled in the account (or accounts) with client money belonging to our other clients and clients of Titan. Titan will keep detailed records of your Client Money held on deposit with them.
- 10.3 Titan will exercise due skill, care and diligence in the selection of an Approved Bank and will periodically review the adequacy and appropriateness of the Approved Bank to hold Client Money as required by the FCA Client Money Rules.
- 10.4 Subject to Titan's oversight and monitoring obligations in clause 10.3, Titan is not responsible for any acts, omissions or default of an Approved Bank. If there is an unreconcilable shortfall in the pooled account at an Approved Bank, then you will share in the shortfall with other clients holding money in the account. If an Approved Bank becomes insolvent or is unable to pay its debts you may not be able to recover all of your Client Money. In these circumstances you may be able to make a claim under the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS). Details of the FSCS are in Clause 15 below.
- 10.5 Titan may, from time to time, hold Client Money in an Approved Bank outside the UK where there may be different legal and regulatory requirements and different practices from those applying in the UK. Your Client Money may not be separately identifiable from other money held in the account. If the overseas Approved Bank becomes insolvent Titan may only have an unsecured claim against that Approved Bank on your behalf and you will be exposed to the risk that the money recovered by Titan will not cover all of your claim.
- 10.6 Client Money held by Titan in pooled client money accounts may (in part) be deposited on fixed term deposit. Client Money held on fixed term deposits cannot be withdrawn by Titan until the fixed term expires. This means that part of the pool would not be available for immediate (or next day) withdrawal by you and Titan may not be able to return part of your Client Money until the fixed term expires. By accepting these Custody Terms you acknowledge you are aware of and accept the risk of Titan having to delay returning Client Money that is held on fixed term deposit.
- 10.7 Where Titan arranges, at its discretion to receive interest on any Client Money account, this will be added to your Titan Client Money account or paid to us for onward distribution to you.
- 10.8 Interest is only payable to you on amounts deposited as Client Money with Titan, and if Titan notifies us that it is payable.
- 10.9 Under the FCA Client Money Rules Titan is entitled to stop treating money as Client Money if there is an unclaimed balance on your account and pay the balance away to a charity of Titan's choice. The conditions that must be satisfied before Titan can do this are:
- 10.9.1 there has been no movement on the account for at least six years other than any payment or receipt of interest, charges or similar items; and
- 10.9.2 Titan has taken reasonable steps to trace you and return any balance to you. Where the balance is £25 or less for a Retail Client or £100 or less for a Professional Client Titan need only make one attempt to contact you to return the balance using the most up-to-date contact details Titan has for you, and you have not responded to such communication within 28 days of the communication having been made.
- Titan will make good any subsequent valid claim for the money.
- 10.10 You agree that Titan may transfer your Client Money to another person as part of a business transfer provided that the sums transferred will be held by the person to whom they are transferred in accordance with the FCA Client Money Rules; or if not held in accordance with the FCA Client Money Rules, that Titan will exercise all due skill, care and diligence in assessing whether the person to whom the Client Money is transferred will apply adequate measures to protect these sums.

10.11 Any transfer of your Client Money on a transfer of business by Titan will be on terms that you can ask for the repayment of your Client Money at any time.

10.12 Titan will undertake daily reconciliation in accordance with FCA Rules. Titan will prepare statements of Client Money as required by the FCA Client Money Rules which we will forward to you on receipt.

11 Security

11.1 Where your Custody Assets are held by a third party including a sub-custodian, nominee, depositary or settlement system you agree that Titan may give such third party or their delegate a lien, security interest or right of set-off (Security) over your Custody Assets to another person to enable that person to dispose of your Custody Assets to:

11.1.1 recover debts owed by you in connection with the services provided under these Custody Terms or the provision of services by that other person. This includes where the granting of Security is necessary to enable the clearing or settlement of your Orders.¹ Liens are a form of security over property which entitles the holder of the security to retain property until debts are paid; or 11.1.2 recover other debts and the security interest, lien or right of set-off is required by the applicable law of a third country in which the Custody Assets are held.

11.2 If a person to whom Titan has granted Security becomes insolvent, Titan may only have an unsecured claim against that person on your behalf and you will be exposed to the risk that your Custody Assets or Client Money as applicable will not be recoverable.

11.3 You agree that you are the sole and beneficial owner of the Custody Assets and that you have deposited them with Titan free of any Security granted by you over them and that you will not charge, assign or otherwise dispose of or create any interest in your Custody Assets.

11.4 As continuing security for the performance of your obligations under these Custody Terms including, without limit, the payment of all sums due to Titan from you, you agree to grant and grant Titan:

11.4.1 a first fixed legal charge over all investments held for your account from time to time in respect of which title has been transferred to Titan its agents, nominees and custodians;

11.4.2 a first fixed equitable charge over all certificates or documents of title relating to investments held from time to time for your account by or to the order of Titan;

11.4.3 a first fixed charge over your rights in respect of any investments which are held by Titan (or to its order) for your account;

11.4.4 a pledge, lien and right of set-off over and in respect of, all and any investments, documents of title to property, documents representing property and all money, investments and other assets of any nature held by or subject to the control of Titan, the Nominee and custodians for your account (including, without limitation, the benefit of all contractual rights and obligations and any proceeds of sale), (together, the "Charges").

11.5 Titan shall have, to the greatest extent permitted by law and the FCA Rules, all of the rights of a secured party with respect to any assets charged to it and you confirm that you will, at the request of Titan, take such action as may be required to perfect or enforce any Security and each irrevocably appoints Titan as their attorney to take any such action on their behalf.

11.6 If you fail to comply with any of your obligations to Titan, the Charges shall be enforceable by law. In such circumstances Titan may without prior notice to you or us, sell, charge, pledge, deposit, realise, borrow or otherwise deal, with any investments or other assets Titan, the Nominee, and custodians are holding for your account on any terms it considers appropriate. The proceeds of any sale or realisation of such investments or other assets and any moneys from time to time deposited with or held by Titan, the Nominee and custodians under these Custody Terms, shall be applied towards the satisfaction of your liabilities to Titan.

11.7 Provided Titan has acted reasonably, Titan shall have no liability to you for any cost, loss, liability and expense, including without limit any loss of profit or loss of opportunity incurred or suffered by you in consequence of any exercise by Titan of any right or remedy under this Clause 11 and any purchase, sale, or other transaction or action that may be undertaken by Titan shall be at such price and on such terms as Titan shall, in its absolute discretion, determine.

11.8 In exercising any right or remedy pursuant to this Clause 11, Titan is authorised to combine accounts, effect such currency conversions and enter into such foreign exchange transactions with, or on behalf of, you, at such rates and in such manner as Titan may, in its absolute discretion, determine.

11.9 No third party shall be required to enquire as to the validity of the exercise by Titan of its powers under this Clause 11.

12 Liability

12.1 Except as set out in this Clause 12 neither Titan, nor any of its directors, employees or agents shall be liable for any loss or damage suffered by you as a direct or indirect result of the provision of services under these Custody Terms unless such loss or damage arises from the negligence, fraud or wilful default of Titan, its directors, employees or agents.

12.2 Nothing in these Custody Terms shall exclude any liability of Titan, or any of its directors, employees or agents which cannot legally be limited including liability arising from:

12.2.1 death or personal injury; or 12.2.2 breach of any obligation owed to you under the regulatory system.

12.3 Neither Titan, nor any of its directors, employees or agents shall be liable for loss of profits, loss of opportunity, loss of business, loss of savings, loss of goodwill, claims by third parties, loss of anticipated savings (whether direct or indirect) or for any type of special, indirect or consequential loss howsoever caused, even if such loss was reasonably foreseeable or Titan had been advised of the possibility of the Client incurring the same.

12.4 Except as set out in Clause 7.4, or in the event of fraud or wilful default or as otherwise required by the regulatory system, Titan does not accept any liability to you for the acts, failures to act, insolvency or any other default of any third party custodian, agents, nominees and custodians, securities depository, intermediate broker, clearing or settlement system or participant in such a system.

12.5 Titan will be responsible for the acts and omissions of the Nominee to the same extent as it is responsible for its own acts and omissions.

13 Conflicts of Interest

Titan has adopted a conflict of interests policy as required by the FCA Rules. Titan will prevent or manage any conflicts of interest that arise in line with the conflict of interests policy, and when it is unable to prevent or manage a conflict of interest for your best interests, Titan will disclose the conflict to you. regulatory obligations, considers is necessary.

17.2 Where the proposed change is likely to have an adverse impact on you Titan will provide us with prior written notice to enable us to give you not less than 30 calendar days prior written notice which may be provided to you in any durable medium that is reasonably appropriate. You will be treated as having accepted the proposed changes if you do not notify us otherwise within the notice period. If you do object to the change we will not be able to provide you with custody services via Titan. If custody is a necessary part of our service to you it may result in us having to change the nature of our service to you or in termination of our agreement with you.

17.3 Titan may also amend these Custody Terms if Titan reasonably believes that the change is in your interests, for example to improve Titan's services to you, or to make these Custody Terms clearer, or for another reason that Titan believes will benefit you. In these cases, Titan may make the amendment and notify the change before or within a reasonable period after the event.
